

DO NOT TALK LOW PRICES

Men Who Raise Tobacco Are Often Responsible for the Prices they Receive.

We have talked to a number of farmers and from the best information we can secure the tobacco crop in Montgomery county this year is the best in many years. While some damage has been done by house burning the crop as a whole is a fine one.

We hear considerable talk about the price going to be low on account of the war. We believe this is a mistake just like the predictions regarding the crop. We had many men tell us early in the season that there would not be over one-third of a crop, then later on that it might reach two-thirds, and now it is a known fact that we have a better crop than we have had for years. All but a small portion of the tobacco raised in this section is sold to American manufacturers and while the Imperial Tobacco Company has been buying some the greater part of the tobacco exported is the dark tobacco.

Of course if you stand around and talk low price the manufacturers will take advantage of your feelings and pay you a low price, but if you determine that you will have at least a fair return for your labor you will get it. In any event it does no good to talk low prices.

W. J. FELL SUCCUMBS AT SALT LICK HOME

News has been received here announcing the death of W. J. Fell which occurred at his home at Salt Lick. His death was unexpected. Mr. Fell was about 70 years old and was a native of Pennsylvania. He came into Kentucky about twenty years ago and located at Salt Lick. He was interested heavily in timber at that time and was one of the mainstays in building the Licking Valley railroad from Salt Lick to Yale. Mr. Fell represented the Standard Oil Company in the Ragland oil fields and was prominent in all business enterprises.

WOULD HELP COTTON GROWERS

Suggestion Made By Ballard & Ballard, of Louisville, Would Be Great Help.

At the request of one of our leading citizens we below reproduce a letter which is being sent out all over the U. S. by Ballard & Ballard, of Louisville, and which contains a suggestion if followed would prove of untold value to the cotton growers: To the Commercial Bodies of the South:—

This is a concrete suggestion for the relief of the cotton section. Please bring it to the attention of the officials of your city who are interested.

The U. S. consumes 40 per cent. of our cotton crop, and we see no earthly reason why this should not be increased so much that it will be unnecessary to import much, if any, jute from India.

"Investigations should begin at home," and we were surprised at finding that our own firm could increase its consumption of cotton goods over 100 per cent. To illustrate: We have discontinued the use of jute bags for feed sacks, for burlap covers and for baker's flour sacks, and have substituted cotton sacks. Therefore, today this mill is consuming every twenty-four hours the following:

(a)—$600.00 worth of cotton flour bags; (b)—$200.00 worth of cotton feed bags; (c)—$400.00 worth of cotton covers for small bags; (d)—$25.00 worth of cotton baker's bags; total—$1,225 worth of cotton sacks consumed each day.

Two weeks ago we were using each day ONLY the article marked "(a)." The result is startling. Every jobber, retailer and baker in your town should demand that his flour and feed come in cotton and NOT in burlaps. The expense is a little more for COTTON, but a broad-minded Mill figures that it gets its money back and more because of the increased prosperity enjoyed by the cotton section.

Furthermore, sugar, fertilizer, grain, produce, etc., can just as well be packed in cotton as in burlap. The producer will use cotton if the jobber demands it, so we say IT IS STRICTLY UP TO YOU. Remember this would bring the U. S. consumption from 40 per cent. of the total crop up to 60 per cent. Surely it is worth striving for! Please have your newspapers take it up.

Cotton mills are hardly operating 12 hours—they should operate 24 hours! Bear in mind that in two weeks time Ballard has made a change in his packing methods which means that instead of consuming $180,000.00 worth of cotton goods in a year we are consuming $367,500.00 worth. What Ballard has done, every other mill can be forced to do.

Can we count on your co-operation in this great movement? America raises not one pound of jute, and she DOES raise COTTON!

Yours truly,
Ballard & Ballard Co.,
By S. Thurston Ballard.

"A PAIR OF SIXES."

The familiar significance of the title, "A Pair of Sixes" to American theatregoers, as well as its quaintness, has made it well known the country over, apart from the fact that the farce has enjoyed a run of nearly a year at the Longacre Theatre, New York, is now in the height of another long run in Chicago, and is now being played by four other large companies, North, South, East and West.

The play was received by the metropolitan critics with an expression of praise that almost exhausted the superlatives, and the hilarious farce has made good everywhere despite this avalanche of praise. It has made theatregoers expect much and they have not been disappointed. For ingenuity of plot, bright dialogue, hilarious complications and most amusing situations, it has been declared the best play of its kind ever seen on the English-speaking stage. It is by Edward Peple, the author of "The Littlest Rebel" and the "Prince Chap," and is in three acts.

The plot deals with the affairs of George B. Nettleton and T. Boggs John, partners in a pill manufacturing business, who are constantly at loggerheads, each longing to be rid of the other but neither willing to sell out. They summon their lawyer, but decline his various propositions for dissolution until in despair he suggests a contract with numerous conditions by which a hand of poker is to be played, with the penalty that the loser shall quit the business for a year and in the interval serve as a servant in the household of the winner. The lawyer is interested personally, because he hopes to see T. Boggs John lose and with his lips sealed by the contract he will be humiliated before the girl with whom he is in love, and in whom the lawyer is also interested. The breaking of the contract means a forfeiture of $5000 and sacrificing his share in the business. John loses and Nettleton and the lawyer both feel he will break the contract rather than stick it out for a year. But he grits his teeth and bravely enters upon his duties as butler in the Nettleton household. He is found here by his sweetheart, who arrives as the guest of the Nettletons. He cannot explain his position to her and there is more trouble for him through the attentions of an eccentric English housemaid who pursues him for a husband. This comical complication is developed through a rapid series of hilarious situations and the fun rattles along until the unfortunate partner's sweetheart takes a hand in the game and rescues him from the clutches of his partner. The latter, too, is glad to end the agreement, for he has mistaken the sympathy of his wife for the loser and believes that she is in love with him, and his assiduity creates an uproarious entanglement of his own.

"A Pair of Sixes" will be seen at the Tabb Opera House, Nov. 4 to 10.

CONGRESS HAS ADJOURNED

Sixty-Third Session Held Forth for Nearly Nineteen Long Months.

After nearly nineteen months of continuous session Congress adjourned last Saturday. Not more than fifty members of the House and less than a quorum of the Senate were present when the gavel fell on adjournment without day.

The end was accomplished through the passage of a concurrent resolution ending the session at four o'clock but clocks were turned ahead in both chambers so that actual adjournment in the House occurred at 3:22 and in the Senate at 3:27.

It was the longest and most laborious session Congress has ever known.

A WORTHY UNDERTAKING

Desiring to secure cheaper money for the farmers of the State and upon longer and easier payments, an association has been formed with headquarters at Lexington, Ky., to be known as the Kentucky Rural Credit Association, with Gov. James B. McCreary as President.

Its plan is what is known as the amortization plan, which is simply a method of paying off the loan by returning a little of the principal each year. Three Presidents, Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson have recognized the need of such associations and as this is the first organization of its kind in the United States, its progress will be watched with interest everywhere.

KILLED BY AUTO

A message was received here yesterday announcing the death in Minneapolis of Jacob Henry, formerly of this city, which occurred as the result of an automobile accident Tuesday. The body was brought to this city at noon Thursday and buried in Machpelah cemetery. The untimely passing of Mr. Henry is the source of deepest regret here. He was about sixty-five years of age and a native of Sharpsburg but for many years resided in Mt. Sterling where he was connected with the Monarch Milling Co. Several years ago he and his wife moved to Minneapolis to make their home with their son, Charles Henry. The details of the accident which led to Mr. Henry's death were not given in the message. He has many relatives throughout this section.

Letter From Jesse Hainline.
Seelbach Hotel, Louisville, Ky.
Oct. 15, 1914.
Editor of Advocate,
Mt. Sterling, Ky.

My Dear Sir:

As my trip with Dr. Snyder is rapidly drawing to a close, I wish to tell my friends something of my experiences since I wrote my last letter.

After reaching Kansas City, Mo., on September 10th, I went at once to Hotel Baltimore, the most beautiful hotel I have ever seen in all my travels East and West, North and South, where I felt very much at home, as every one is made comfortable and receives the greatest courtesies. On the 19th day of September I celebrated my 15th birthday at the Hotel Baltimore and enjoyed a great feast, prepared by Dr. Snyder, who is always on the lookout to do something for some one else. We remained at Kansas City until Sept. 22nd, when we left for Davenport, Iowa, Rock Island and Moline, Ill., called the tri-cities, which have large manufacturing industries. On Thursday night, Sept. 24th, we left for St. Louis, where we boarded on the evening of Friday, Sept. 25th, "Steamer St. Louis" of the St. Louis and Tennessee River Packet Co., for a trip on three beautiful rivers, the Mississippi, Ohio, and Tennessee, along the shores of six different States, including Kentucky, bound for Shiloh Battlefield and Waterloo, Ala. On the way we stopped at many river towns. It was a very beautiful trip indeed, constantly winding and always seeing something new. Just before reaching Cairo, Ill., I saw where the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers came together and soon after leaving Paducah, Ky., I watched the Tennessee River flowing into the Ohio. On Monday morning, Sept. 28th, the boat stopped at Clinton, Tenn., for two hours and Dr. Snyder took occasion to deliver an address to the students of the High School of that town on the theme of "Universal Peace." On Tuesday, Sept. 29th, about 6 o'clock in the evening the boat stopped for a couple of hours at Savannah, Tenn., the town where General Grant made his headquarters during the campaign that terminated in the battle of Shiloh. Here he was eating breakfast in the house of Mr. Cherry, April 6th, 1862, when he heard the opening guns of the battle and hastened to the field. The Cherry residence still stands near the river bank and the rooms used by General Grant remain intact—just as when occupied by him.

Peculiar interest attaches to Crump's landing near Savannah, as the headquarters of Gen. Lew Wallace, who marched from this point to aid Gen. Grant at Shiloh. General Wallace wasn't only a brave General and soldier, but a great author as well and had the good fortune to live to see his masterpiece, "Ben Hur," most beautifully dramatized and placed in all its spectacular beauty before the world. After four days' sail we reached, at midnight, Shiloh Battlefield, where the captain of the St. Louis, a very kind man, took us with lanterns through the historic spots of Shiloh, a field of about 4,000 acres, which, by Act of Congress, in 1894 was designated as Shiloh National Military Park. The tract has been improved with 25 miles of graveled roads and drives along the exact lines of the roads existing at the time of the battle, by erecting tablets, monuments, markers and signs to the number of 651. These tablets and markers enable visitors to understand readily the important events of the battle. The tablets, painted in colors to represent the three armies—blue for Grant's, yellow for Buell's of the Union army and red for the Confederate army—are placed in the position occupied by the troops at the hours designated, and the tablets face in the same direction that the troops faced in the line of battle. The square tablets represent positions on the first day, the oval tablets the positions on the second day.

Five Generals were killed in the battle, Gen. W. H. L. Wallace, Gen. Peabody, Gen. Raith, of the Union army, and Gen. Johnston and Gen. Gladden of the Confederate army. The places where these leaders fell are marked by especially designated mortuary monuments, composed of 20 pound Parrot guns and cannon balls.

The general headquarters of Sherman, McClellan, Hurlbut, Prentiss and Wallace, and nine brigade headquarters, are marked by imposing pyramids of cannon balls. The different States have erected costly and beautiful monuments in commemoration of these troops that fell in the battle.

I stood also at the grave which holds the remains of a 15-year-old Shiloh drummer boy, who also fell in the battle where for two days, April 6th and 7th, 1862, was stubbornly fought, one of the fiercest battles of the Civil War.

Early in the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 30th, we returned by steamer St. Louis as far as Johnsonville, Tenn., where we boarded the train for Chattanooga. Upon arrival there on Wednesday, Oct. 1st, we drove to Eagle Cliff, Ga., and were welcomed at the home of friends of Dr. Snyder, located near the foot of "Lookout Mountain," where we spent a most delightful visit for several days. There I met some of the boys in which Dr. Snyder is interested and who made the trip with us to Lookout Mountain, where the famous battle was fought above the clouds.

When the incline car had reached the summit, we arrived in the midst of a thick cloud which seemed to cover the entire mountain as I couldn't see ten feet ahead of me and received an idea of how difficult it must have been for the soldiers of three armies, fighting side by side in the awful battle, where they were forced to throw shells and boulders by hand.

Our friends led us the way under difficulties, but we were able to distinguish Umbrella Rock and Point Lookout where many tablets are placed in commemoration of the dead.

We descended the mountain on the service car. The next day we visited Signal Mountain from which summit a beautiful view is afforded upon the city of Chattanooga. On Tuesday, Oct. 6, we left Chattanooga for Nashville where we remained for two days. On Thursday, Oct. 8th, we left for Bowling Green, Ky., and on Saturday morning, Oct. 10th, we pushed for Mammoth Cave where we remained until Tuesday, Oct. 13th.

Every Kentucky boy and girl, as well as every citizen, ought to see this great wonder. I shall never forget its sights.

For the convenience of visitors, as well as with reasonable consideration for the guides themselves, certain hours and routes are fixed. Four routes are mapped out, commonly known as route 1, 2, 3 and 4. Among the things in the cave I admired most were the statue of Martha Washington, which is represented through the formation of the rocks and beautifully lighted from the distance, then the Bottomless Pit, the boat ride on Echo River, the Old Arm Chair, the Acute Angle, the Corkscrew, Lovers' Leap, Violet Chamber, Chief City, Grand Portal and others. As it is impossible to write in this space all my impressions of the Mammoth Cave and to give all the particulars, I shall endeavor to say something more about it some future time.

Let me add, however, that the Mammoth Cave was found in 1802 by a bear hunter who traced a wounded bear into the cave. His name was Hutchins. He did not enter the cave, however. It might be of interest to state that if any one should visit the cave in the near future, should ask for Bishop, the guide, who knows the cave as any one knows his home and its surroundings. Bishop has explored many portions of the Mammoth Cave and loves to show people through it and inspires any one who may be fortunate enough to be under his guidance while visiting the secrets of the underworld.

On Wednesday, Oct. 14th, I left for Hodgenville, Ky., where I visited Memorial Hall on Lincoln Farm, which holds the cabin home of the late President, Abraham Lincoln. This is another place in this great country of ours which every Kentucky boy and girl, yes, every man and woman, ought to visit. It is not only a historic spot but a place of inspiration, where a humble Kentucky boy was raised in a log cabin home and rose to the greatest place within the gift of the American people. On Thursday, Oct. 15th, I reached Louisville, a most interesting and very busy city, the last stopping place before my return to my home town.

Four months I have spent with Dr. Snyder. I have learned a great many lessons from the Book of Life, have met many men of all walks of life and many boys who possessed various ideas and ideals. I have met many friends of Dr. Snyder, I say many, for he has friends everywhere, in every city, town or village. I have traveled many thousands of miles, East, West, North and South, I have sailed the ocean, the lakes and the rivers and have traveled by rail to mountains, caves and cities and it has been a grand and wonderful trip, full of valuable experiences and education for years to come.

I am now ready to resume my studies anew at school, but I must admit that I regret to leave Dr. Snyder. He has been most kind to me. He has been a father and mother to me and I shall always hold him as a true and loving friend.

To say that I appreciate his kindness is only a mild expression, but I want him and all my friends to know that no father and mother can be more faithful and devoted to their children than Dr. Snyder has been to me.

I thank him with all my heart.

Thanking the editor for his kindness to publish this letter and also my former letters, I remain, Very respectfully, good fortune to live to see his masterpiece, "Ben Hur," most beautifully dramatized and placed in all its spectacular beauty before the world. After four days' sail we reached, at midnight, Shiloh Battlefield, where the captain of the St. Louis, a very kind man, took us with lanterns through the historic spots of Shiloh, a field of about 4,000 acres, which, by Act of Congress, in 1894 was designated as Shiloh National Military Park. The tract has been improved with 25 miles of graveled roads and drives along the exact lines of the roads existing at the time of the battle, by erecting tablets, monuments, markers and signs to the number of 651. These tablets and markers enable visitors to understand readily the important events of the battle. The tablets, painted in colors to represent the three armies—blue for Grant's, yellow for Buell's of the Union army and red for the Confederate army—are placed in the position occupied by the troops at the hours designated, and the tablets face in the same direction that the troops faced in the line of battle. The square tablets represent positions on the first day, the oval tablets the positions on the second day.

JOB PRINTING OUR SPECIALTY

WAR INCREASES PRICES IN THE PRINTING TRADE

Much sooner than expected has the European war affected the price of many articles in daily use in this country. It was hardly expected that in less than two months' time the cost of paper, card board, inks and many other supplies used by printers, lithographers, steel die and copper-plate engravers, bookbinders and other allied trades would advance and the advance be so universal as to affect almost everything connected with the printing industry.

A large amount of raw material used in the manufacture of paper comes from Europe and the shipping has been much interfered with. This shortage of various supplies has also advanced the price of domestic materials.

The United States is dependent upon Europe, and largely upon Germany, for practically all materials required in the making of colored inks. While of some items a fairly good stock is carried by the paper mills and jobbers, in the majority of cases the price of paper has been advanced fully ten per cent. The printers all purchase this stock from the mills and jobbers, and must pay this increase and they of course must charge the customer accordingly.

I is only another instance of how much this country depends on the European nations for many of its supplies. It would not be surprising if the war keeps up for a number of years, if it will be practically impossible to manufacture certain colors, as we even import the coloring dyes. The time may come when the printers, lithographers, engravers and embossers will be unable to furnish customers their work in colored inks.

"JACK" LISLE MARRIED

Mr. Ernest Claiborne Lisle, of Winchester, known as "Jack Lisle, and Miss Carrie Adamson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were married in Louisville late Wednesday and are now stopping at the Brown-Proctoria Hotel in Winchester. The bride is a young woman of charm and gracious personality, has been spending the summer in Mt. Sterling. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Adamson, of Chattanooga.

Mr. Lisle is one of the wealthiest and most popular young farmers of Clark county. He is the only son of the late ex-Congressman and ex-Judge Marcus C. Lisle, his mother having been Miss Lizzie Bean before her marriage. Both the bride and groom are well known this city where they have many friends.

Living for self with no object but to follow the bent of the inclination, never yet made a woman healthy, happy or beloved. She mostly turns out to be fretful, nervous and uncomfortable to live with, and not much sought after by anyone. A woman who lives for self alone should never marry. Men take to bad ways if their dinners are not good. It is not sound reasoning, to be sure, for him to think he is entitled to do wrong because his wife does, but it is a sort that is much used; and one can readily see how discouraging it must be for a man to see his earnings squandered by his wife in her goings and comings, her dressing and adornments, while she seems to have no thought of his needs, and no willingness to attend to them.

Judge O'Rear's enmity to Gus Willson has found frequent expression since the beginning of the present campaign. The Judge has not forgotten that Willson refused to support him and he has openly stated that under no conditions would he be for Willson for the Senate. In point of fact, if there was any danger of "garrulous Gus" being elected, Judge O'Rear would take the stump and urge his Progressive and Republican friends to vote for Governor Beckham.

In a recent case the jury was being examined on their competency to sit as jurors in the cause.

CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE FORMED

"The Progressives" is the name of the Mt. Sterling Chautauqua Circle. This is the "Classical English Year" and each of the seventeen members is taking the full course. During the summer months the class followed the suggestions regarding the revival of poetry. Afternoons in the study of Bryant, Longfellow, Poe, Whittier, Lowell, Holmes, Emerson, Lanier were spent. In this year's regular study, the first lessons are on Tennyson. The class has chosen for their "mascot" for the year Master David Patten Oldham, son of one of the members, an exceedingly bright boy of five years, who met with the class on Friday and gave his quotation from Tennyson. The meeting Friday afternoon was with Mrs. Henry Senieur at her home on West Main street.

"NO ILLITERACY" SUNDAY

The war is on against illiteracy in Kentucky. The public school teachers and the press are destroying this, the Commonwealth's most vigorous foe. Men and women of other professions are becoming interested and are giving hearty support to the movement.

The Kentucky Illiteracy Commission earnestly requests that all ministers of the gospel in this State will set apart Sunday, Oct. 25th, as a day to preach to the people of their respective congregations on the evils and disadvantages of illiteracy, and to urge each and every one to join in the movement by encouraging the establishment of moonlight schools and by influencing adults, and especially illiterate persons, to attend.

Kentucky has 208,084—nearly a quarter of a million persons who cannot read their Bibles. Surely every minister can see in this a serious handicap to religious work in our State. The Bible overflows with texts on the acquirement of knowledge and the necessity of instruction, and a sermon on the importance of stamping out illiteracy would be one of popular interest and would, undoubtedly, be far reaching in its effect.

We appeal to the ministers of Kentucky, one and all, to observe this day with a sermon to enlighten and inspire the people of their congregations to get actively to work to rid their communities of illiteracy, and to make of Kentucky a place where no illiteracy is to be found. Any minister desiring leaflet of information will please write Kentucky Illiteracy Commission, Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, Pres., Frankfort, Kentucky.

Tin cans at Vanarsdell's, 35c per dozen.

There are 208,084 people in Kentucky who can neither read nor write and 87,000 of these are voters. As this number is more than "a balance of power" is it wonder that we have so many fool laws and fool lawmakers?

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side. The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

THE TWENTY-THIRD PSALM

The Ford is my auto. I shall not want. It maketh me to lie under it in dusty roads; it leadeth me into much trouble; it draweth on my purse. I go into the path of death for its sake. Yea, though I understand my Ford perfectly, I fear much evil, for the radius of an axle might break. It has blown out in the presence of mine enemies. I appoint the tire with a patch the radiator boileth over. Surely this thing shall not follow me all the days of my life, or I shall dwell in the house of poverty forever.

MORAL: Equip your Ford with one of those coo coo clocks. When the thing reaches a speed of twenty miles per hour the bird will come out and sing, "Nearer My God to Thee."—C. C. Robbins, in the Winchester Sun.

Mr. Bryan has published over his signature in the Commoner, an editorial reviewing Governor Beckham's political career and strongly endorsing his candidacy for the Senate. No higher compliment could be paid any man than to have the friendship of William Jennings Bryan, because he himself is a pure man and a patriot and he only stands for those men who are clean, able and loyal to the party principles. In all the years that Mr. Bryan has been in public life battling for the great ideas that are now the very foundation of Democracy, Mr. Beckham has been his staunch supporter and defender. Governor Beckham, in his speech at the Masonic Temple, in Louisville, stated that if elected to the Senate he would stand by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan and hold up their hands in the brave battle they are making for the rights of the people.

Concrete's the thing—Lehigh's the Cement.
Name It!
Lehigh's the Answer
Name any form of construction that you contemplate building and we will give you the answer—Lehigh Portland Cement Concrete.
It is unequaled for homes, sidewalks, fence posts, gates, porches, barns, silos, feeding troughs, garden furniture and a hundred other forms of building.
But the big Lehigh fact is—it will increase in strength as it grows older. Each year a Lehigh structure has greater power to withstand the wear and tear of the elements. It is a guarantee against depreciation and upkeep.
We have Lehigh on hand. We have a lot of suggestions for concrete building you ought to know. Ask us today. For the next thing you build—use Lehigh.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For United States Senator
Full Term:

J. C. W. BECKHAM

For United States Senator
Unexpired Term:

JOHNSON N. CAMDEN

For Congress

W. J. FIELDS

The Right Spirit.

Determined that the citizens of the Prewitt neighborhood shall not be more public-spirited than they, Col. A. W. Hamilton, Mr. Hughes Atkinson and others living on the Mt. Sterling and Owingsville turnpike, have generously agreed to spread, free of charge, five cars of crushed stone on said highway and the rock has been ordered shipped to Ewington.

This is a great saving to the county and enables it to buy twice as much as it could do if required to pay for the teams and hands used in spreading.

This plan of co-operation, first suggested by the Advocate, if made general on the part of our citizens, would do much in lifting Montgomery county out of the mud.

The First to be Honored.

Senator Camden and Governor Beckham will have the distinction of being the first to be elected to the highest office in the gift of the State by popular vote. Both have served their State well and both are eminently deserving the approbation of the people, who, according to the reports, will show it by a practically unanimous vote. In the case of Governor Beckham, especially, an election to the office by the people is peculiarly appropriate, as it will prove again the truth of Scripture: that the stone that the legislative builders rejected has become the head of the corner. He would now be in the Senate but for a few purchasable members, whose action hastened the glorious day of the people's emancipation from legislative thralldom.—Lexington Herald.

All Thankful for Wilson.

The people of the United States are daily paying President Wilson just about the highest tribute which a people could pay a President in their quiet satisfaction, universally observable, that he is in charge of the nation's interests in these trying times. Men who fought the President on his tariff policy, his trust policy, his banking policy and even his Mexican policy are glad now that he is where he is. Men of all parties and all shades of political and economic opinion are Wilson men for the time being, because they have full confidence that he will keep us out of any entanglement in a needless, wicked and destructive war. WE HEAR PROGRESSIVES SAY THAT THEY'RE MIGHTY GLAD ROOSEVELT ISN'T PRESIDENT NOW. REPUBLICANS TELL US THAT THEY'RE GLAD TAFT ISN'T IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

The idea is that Roosevelt would become unduly excited and feel it his duty to get us into so big a thing as a world war, and that Taft, in his good-natured way, would let things drift along until we became involved in some way or other. Whether these views are correct or not is a matter of no moment, but it is a wonderful testimonial to President Wilson that no man, Republican, Progressive or Democrat, seems to have the slightest fear that the war is going to cause this nation any unnecessary loss as long as he is in the White House.—Ohio State Journal—(Rep.)

For the first time in the history of the country the voters will vote directly for their choice for United States Senator on November 3. It was first advocated by Democrats and is truly a Democratic measure. Let no Democrat fail to show his appreciation of the new law on November 3.—Owensboro Messenger.

STATE AID FOR ROADS

At the good roads conference held in Louisville Wednesday night the statement was made that on January 1st there will be available approximately $600,000 of State funds to be used in road construction in counties which do their part by putting up a dollar to meet the dollar given by the State.

One county, Lewis, has taken advantage of the State's generous proposition by voting a bond issue of $120,000 for the construction of roads. The State Board Department already has approved a contract for the construction of a section of macadam highway. Lewis county, therefore, will be the first county to experience the benefit of State aid.

There are other counties preparing to take a vote on the question of issuing bonds. Several of these bond propositions will be voted on at the November election. In other counties where the vote is favorable the result will be due largely to the fact that the State is ready to meet the counties half way in the matter of road building. The money which the State contributes is to be applied to highways connecting the county-seat towns. It was pointed out by speakers at Wednesday night's conference that the system of roadways connected county-seats embraced 6,200 miles, and that this 6,200 miles would accommodate 87 per cent. of the traffic of the State and serve directly about 80 per cent. of the people.

In this way the counties of Kentucky now have an opportunity to do some effective road construction. If it shall become possible, eventually, to use some of the State convicts on the roads the cost of the work may be reduced, but in the meanwhile there is nothing to prevent the building of roads by counties which have the enterprise to avail themselves of the State's assistance.

A system of good roads uniting all the county-seat towns would be of inestimable value to the Commonwealth. The counties should not be slow in taking advantage of State aid.—Courier-Journal.

WHAT THE DEMOCRATS HAVE DONE

Here are some of the progressive measures urged by a Democratic President and passed by a Democratic Congress:

The currency system reformed and twelve Regional Reserve Banks established.

A Federal Trade Commission created to investigate the conduct and practice of industrial corporations, and to aid the Department of Justice in the prosecution of offenders.

The Clayton Anti-trust Act which provides for guilt of individuals connected with corporations convicted of violating the anti-trust laws, limits interlocking directorates, prohibits holding companies which lessen competition, prevents exclusive and tying contracts, liberalizes laws relating to injunction and contempt and exempts from prosecution under anti-trust laws agricultural, horticultural, fraternal and labor organizations.

Act repealing provisions of the Panama Canal Law exempting from payment of tolls vessels engaged in coastwise shipping of the United States.

The Alaska Railroad law provides for Government construction and operation of 1,000 miles of railroad with telegraph and telephone lines, from the lower Pacific coast to Interior waters and mineral region of Alaska at a cost not to exceed $35,000,000.

Laws placing on a war footing the volunteer militia and naval militia of the States subjecting them in time of war to the call of the signal corps of the army.

Law regulating cotton future sales on stock exchanges, providing a tax of two cents a pound on sales for future delivery, unless actually delivered under conditions and grades established by the Department of Agriculture.

The reform of the tariff.

The income tax put on the statute book.

Amendment to Panama Canal Act admitting to American registry foreign ships of American ownership to engage in overseas and South American trade.

Emergency currency act permitting banks of national currency associations to issue circulating notes up to 125 per cent of their unimpaired capital and surplus and making available to banks of the country more than $1,000,000,000 of emergency currency.

Law creating in the Treasury Department a Bureau of War Risk Insurance, appropriating $5,000,000 to insure ships of American registry against hazards of the European war.

Resolutions appropriating $2,750,000 for protection and transportation of American citizens stranded in European war zones and authorizing the American Red Cross Society to charter a ship of foreign registry and fly the American flag.

Governor Beckham and Senator Camden, the Democratic nominees for the United States Senate, heartily approve these measures and if elected will continue to support President Wilson's wise and patriotic policies.

If Augustus E. Willson or Burton Vance, the Republican and Progressive nominees, are elected they will vote to destroy the labor of the Democrats in Congress, and put every possible obstacle in the way of the President.

It is the patriotic duty of every Kentucky Democrat to vote the straight ticket in November.

Fresh oysters received every day at Vanarsdell's.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Athletics.

(Russell DeHaven)

"Practice makes perfect" so believes every member of the High School foot ball team. The team has worked faithfully every day of the past week. The scrubs are on hand each afternoon and put up a stiff game.

Monday afternoon the "Rounders" were defeated by the High School eleven by the score of 7 to 0. The "Rounders" who consisted mostly of ex-students of the High School, had a very good team but showed the lack of practice.

On Friday, Oct. 30th, the team will journey to Paris where they will play the Paris High School eleven. As the boys now have things in fine running order they hope to return victorious.

Literary Societies.

(Howard VanAntwerp)

The "Purple and Old Gold" literary society met Friday afternoon. The few persons, who took advantage of the invitation extended to the patrons of the school heard a good program.

The Freshman Literary Society composed of the members of the Freshman class, has been reorganized this year. They hold their meetings bi-monthly on Friday afternoons, the date for the next meeting being Nov. 6th.

The following grades of the Grammar School have literary societies: Eighth, Seventh, Sixth, Fifth, Fourth, and the Third are going to organize soon. This speaks well for the teachers of the Grammar School and their desire to give the pupils some training in this very important form of student activity.

In the past week one of the Louisville dailies contained an article stating that a literary society, the "Purple and Old Gold," had been organized. This society was organized in 1910 and has been in a flourishing condition since that date. The article referred to above would create the impression that literary societies in the Mt. Sterling High School were an innovation, while in truth, we might be called pioneers in that movement.

Miscellaneous.

(Julia Rodman)

Saturday afternoon in the school auditorium Mrs. Allie Grubbs lectured on education, but very few took the opportunity to be enlightened by her lecture. One cannot give as an excuse—"The inclement weather" but maybe the ever interesting "war" is of greater importance than the illiteracy of our own State—Kentucky.

The school wishes to thank the public for its ready response to their appeal for homes for the teachers who will be here on November to attend the Educational meet.

This coming week is examination week for the school and we all have been looking forward to it for the last three weeks with the "greatest pleasure."

NEW FIREPROOF HOTEL NOW A CERTAINTY.

G. V. Halliday, of Cincinnati In Town to Assist in Closing the Deal.

Mr. G. V. Halliday, a member of the firm of Chatfield & Company, of Cincinnati, dealers in investment securities and members of the Stock Exchange, is in town representing the firm in the interest of Judge McKee's new hotel enterprise.

The Chatfield-Morgan Company has for some time been active in promoting up-to-date fireproof hotel properties and come to us through the efforts of Judge McKee.

All doubt as to the success of the venture is now removed as this firm controls a large fund, out of which they have agreed to furnish at least fifty per cent. of the cost, providing the citizens will co-operate with them and subscribe to the balance.

Mr. Halliday and Mr. Chatfield came to Mt. Sterling last Tuesday and conferred with Judge H. Clay McKee, after which they surveyed the town. It was their conclusion that the site which Judge McKee decided upon is without a doubt the proper location, and it is their intention to get financial matters under way immediately.

This proposition which the Cincinnati men offer is the opportunity for which Mt. Sterling ought to be thankful and one which they cannot afford to miss. For with such a proposition of bringing outside money into a town to finance a new hotel, there are many other cities which will jump at the chance if our citizens overlook it.

Mr. Halliday, when interviewed, stated that he was much pleased with our city and its many advantages. He said in part, "The city has exceptional facilities in water, electric lights, gas and paved streets, as well as the advantage of the cattle market which brings new money into the town and its industries."

"Hotel accommodations at present are extremely limited and not such as a progressive town of its size should have."

"A modern fireproof hotel, in my mind, is as great a necessity as a school house."

"A city never grows on its own money, it is the outside money that counts and makes the town. New York City and other large cities have been built up on the money which comes there from the entire country. Good hotel accommodations draw transient population which leaves money in the town. Think also of the automobile trade over your beautiful roads leading to this city. A new hotel would draw tourists here in immense numbers. Last but not least, it will very greatly enhance the value of real estate, not only in its immediate vicinity but all over the town."

"Well arranged hotels all over the country are paying, and paying big. I could cite you to hundreds of instances where this is true. Take for instance, the Phoenix Hotel at Lexington. Our best information is that it is paying 12 per cent."

"Under the plan which we propose there will be bonds on the property to at least 50 per cent and the balance stock. The bonds have a fixed income and cannot pay more than 6 per cent. which throws the great part of the earning to the stock. On this basis the citizens of the town who take the stock will be the recipients of very large incomes on their investments."

WILSON, THE HIGH-MINDED AND PATRIOTIC

Now that practically all Europe has been plunged into war over a pretext that must be considered trifling—indeed, absolutely contemptible in view of the untold human misery involved—it is to be hoped that fair-minded Americans will begin to estimate more at their true value the wisdom and justice of that policy of watchful waiting which has proved so successful in President Wilson's handling of the Mexican question.

Huerta proved himself a peculiarly exasperating person, with much more ability and a greater command of resources than were at first credited to him, and there can be no doubt that a war of invasion, and possibly even of permanent occupation, would have proved popular with a large part of the American public. After the landing at Vera Cruz nothing would have been easier than to find a pretext for such a warlike policy.

But the President exercised a staying and a steadying hand. We did not go in. We have saved ourselves the horrors of war and the long legacy of hate throughout Latin America which would surely have followed. If the example of our own President could find imitators among the crowned heads of Europe, it would be a blessing to humanity. —Philadelphia Record.

NOTHING BETTER FOR WEAK WOMEN

"I Never Spent Any Money
That Did Me So Much
Good as That I Spent for Vinol."

Bellefontaine, Ohio.—"I wish every tired, weak, nervous woman could have Vinol for I never spent any money in my life that did me so much good as that I spent for Vinol. My nerves were in a very bad condition, making me very weak, tired, and worn out and often drowsy headaches. I had tried cod liver oil, doctor's medicines, and other preparations without benefit.

"One day a friend asked me to try Vinol. I did and soon my appetite increased, I slept better and now I am strong, vigorous and well and can do my housework with pleasure."—Mrs. J. F. LAMBORN, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Nervous, weak, tired, worn-out women should take Mrs. Lamborn's advice and try Vinol for there are literally thousands of men and women who were formerly run-down, weak and nervous, who owe their good health to Vinol.

It is the medicinal, tissue building elements of the cod's livers, aided by the blood making, strengthening influence of tonic iron, contained in Vinol, which makes it so efficient in all such cases.

PRESIDENT WILSON

"Fortunately," says the Herald, "we have at the head of the Government at this critical time a man in whose calmness and judgment we have as great confidence as we have in his patriotism."

"Calmness and judgment." Great words, expressing great qualities. In the terrible storm of war that has burst over Europe Americans have new reason to admire the sense and sanity of their own Chief Magistrate.

Since autocracy deliberately plunged civilization into blood, we hear no more sneers at an Administration that chose "watchful waiting" in preference to war. We hear no more expressions of contempt for the President's idealism and for his theories of service. These theories are no longer the academic dreams of the schoolmaster. In the light of the worldwide catastrophe of the last ten days the most blatant jingo in the United States would not exchange Woodrow Wilson for any European statesman, and the partisan bigots who professed to be ashamed of their country have all been silenced by events.

It is very fine to prattle about "a vigorous foreign policy," but conscience and sincerity and integrity have their place in government despite the Metternich legend that still controls European chancelleries. ***

More than maps will be changed by this conflict, and we ourselves will be affected by it in respects that are neither financial nor commercial. New standards of statesmanship will be established in this country as the American people contemplate the terrible results of personal government and imperialistic ambitions abroad.

To the historian of fifty years hence the fact that Woodrow Wilson was President in this crisis may seem no less providential than the fact that Abraham Lincoln was President when the very life of the Union was hanging in the balance.—New York World.

GREAT LEADER AND STATESMAN

At Princeton he made a great fight for Democratic institutions. As Governor of New Jersey he brought one of the worst boss-ridden States of the Union into line for progressive measures.

As President he went into office with a comprehensive programme of legislation devoted to what he called "the new freedom"—to opening the door of opportunity to all men.

The first of his measures to lessen the power of special privilege—the tariff revision—he pushed through with intelligence and dispatch. The second is now virtually out of the way.

A remarkable man. A great leader. An effective statesman. The country is just coming to realize the quality of Woodrow Wilson.—Kansas City Star, Bull Moose.

The ladies of the Baptist church will have an exchange Saturday before Thanksgiving. Everything good to eat.

AMERICA'S DUTY

What this country needs is less partisanship. Neither the causes of the war nor its probable outcome concern the American people as much as the question of what America can do toward ending it speedily. As the only great power not involved in the war the duty of making peace will be ours. The American people should rise to that duty united in thought favoring neither one side nor the other, combined in the single purpose of extracting from this terrible war as much good as possible for mankind.—Philadelphia Press (Standpat Rep.)

"THANK GOD FOR WILSON"

President Wilson's masterful address to the American people at this juncture once again emphasizes the truth which is slowly but surely sinking into the consciousness of the people that they have reason to thank God that at this crisis they have at the head of their nation this remarkable man.

With the gruesome object-lesson before our eyes of a world-war shaking the earth of its foundations it comes like a shock to let the mind turn back a moment and think of what might have been. In what relation to this war would this nation, with its millions of peace-loving people, be today if fate had given us for President, a good and kind, but wobbly man, but worse still, the Big Bluff?

In either case we would at this moment be embroiled in a gruelling war with Mexico. A weak man would have been forced into the war when the howl of the jingo press, pulpit and populace was at its worst. The Big Stick would never have waited for the howl to be heard before throwing the firebrand. A war with Mexico would almost inevitably have brought us into complications with one or more of the powers now at war.

Now, instead of a Mexican imbroglio and an international mix-up, we are at peace with the world and we have peace to the south of us, with the best of prospects that a government as nearly Democratic genius can grasp is to be set up. And because of our firm, clean and unselfish attitude there will come to us the friendship not only of Mexico but of all of South America, friendships which we had forfeited through former double-dealing and doubtful tactics, friendships which would be valuable to us at any time, but are invaluable to us just now.

And all of this—and more—due to that keenminded, strong-hearted, noble-souled Democrat who could sit at the bedside of a dying corsair of whose mortal sickness the world did not hear, and put into writing the policies of a nation.

What might have been—is deed! Well may this nation in all humbleness and with chastened heart thank God for Wilson!—Chicago Journal.

When Augustus E. Willson ran for Governor he had great crowds to hear him speak and thousands of Democrats voted for him. This year his speeches have been a frost and audiences have been most disheartening in point of numbers and lack of enthusiasm. At Greenup the other day, although he had been advertised for weeks, the Republican Committee could not get as many as 40 people to attend his meeting. At other points in the same county he had as few as 9 people to hear him speak. If the frosts that have descended upon Willson had fallen upon the crops of the State, Kentucky would be bankrupt and its people would perish of starvation.

Do you go to church?

MONTGOMERY CIRCUIT COURT

JOHN CECIL, Ext. &c. Plffs vs.
ARTHUR JACOBS, Admr. &c. Dfts

NOTICE OF SALE IN EQUITY.

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale of the Montgomery Circuit Court, rendered at the September Term, 1914, thereof, in the above cause, the undersigned will, on the

at 1 o'clock, p. m., or thereabout, (being Court day), proceed to offer for sale at Public Auction, to the highest bidder, on a credit of 6 months, at the Court House door, in Mt. Sterling, Ky., the property mentioned in the Judgment, to-wit:

TRACT NO. 1.—A tract of land situated in Montgomery county, Kentucky, on the waters of Hinkston and Grassy Lick Creek, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stone in the line of the William Dale dower, thence N. 30 E. 66.9 poles to a set stone in original line; thence N. 52 deg. 41 ft. W. 32.2 poles to large sycamore, near the mouth of Grassy Lick Creek and original corner; thence S. 43 1/4 W. 62.3 poles to corner of dower; thence S. 46 deg. 33 ft. E. 48.2 poles to the beginning, and containing 16 acres 7/8 poles of land, and being the same land conveyed by Nancy and William Duncan to Johnson Wilson of date August 5, 1899, and recorded in Deed Book 27, at page 103, Montgomery County Court Clerk's office.

TRACT NO. 2.—Lying in Montgomery county on the waters of Hinkston Creek, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stake in the line of the dower of Mrs. Dale's corner with Johnson Wilson; thence N. 46 deg. 33 ft. E. 17.2 poles to a stake in said dower line; thence N. 30 deg. 17 ft. E. 73.7 poles to a stake in David Wilson's line; thence N. 54 W. 16.8 poles to a stake corner with Johnson Wilson; thence S. 30 deg. 17 ft. RUSSIA TO QUIT

MAKING ALCOHOL

The Russian Government will never again embark in the manufacture and sale of alcoholic drinks. This statement, confirming previous reports has been made in the name of Emperor Nicholas himself.

The Russian Union of Abstinence, which devotes its energies to the combating of alcoholism, addressed to Emperor Nicholas a solicitation that he forbid forever the sale of spirituous liquors in Russia. His Majesty replied in a telegram in the name of Grand Duke of Constantine, and addressed to the president of the abstinence society, in which he said:

"I thank you; I long ago decided to interdict for all time in Russia the sale of alcoholic drinks by the government."

Health is the source of beauty, and every rule for beauty is simply a rule for health. A girl cannot have a firm, elastic body, a clear skin, a fine color and bright eyes unless she exercises, sleeps and eats profusely and sufficiently. All these outward charms appeal to the eye, but how much deeper and more lasting is the impression when there is beauty of character as well. It is not strange how persons who seem plain and unattractive to the casual eye, seen often, become absolutely beautiful to us in their revelation of character. And how some whom we consider beautiful at first, when better known, seem only ugly and unattractive, because of some defect of character. Character will

out. We may try to hide our defects, but it is useless. We may deceive for a time, but are long we are known and valued for what we really are in spite of our efforts and pretense.

Those peculiar skirt rigs the women are wearing this season are especially fetching in design and possess the added allurements of constantly threatening to come loose somewhere in the basque arrangement and drop off.

When those pretty Texas girls finally redeem their promise to appear on the streets in kimono made of cotton in order to boost the price of that product, we are going to make an effort to visit Texas if we get killed in the stampede.—Lexington Herald.

GLOBE TAILOR-MADE UNDERWEAR

Examine the Finish

Look closely at the fabric. Study the shape. You will find that Globe Tailor Made Underwear has all of the last little refinements.

The stays and facings are of fine quality sateen. Buttons are sewed on to stay with six cord thread. The button holes are tailored to prevent tearing out. The seams are twice sewed and will not break.

The ends of the seams are stayed and will not unravel. The fabric is made from yarns made especially for this underwear.

Garments are preshrunk by a secret process and retain their shape after washings.

Sizes are scientifically arranged by experts to conform perfectly to the lines of the human figure.

The beauty of Globe Tailor Made Underwear appeals to the tasteful; its perfect fit to the fastidious and its wearing quality to the economical.
